

College of Pharmacy Students in Health Sciences Skills Competition

Six pharmacy students represented the College of Pharmacy at the College of the North Atlantic in Qatar (CNA-Q) annual Health Sciences Skills Competition. This was held on February 5, 2013 at CNA-Q premises and included over 300 students from diverse disciplines that including, pharmacy technician, nursing, pharmacy. The pharmacy students representing the College of Pharmacy this year were Farah Jibril (Final Year student), Reem El-Ajez (PharmD student), Sara Hyder (PharmD student), Kawthar Tawengi (PharmD student), Hoda Gad Atwa (Final Year student), and Huda Hazi (Final Year Student). The performance of each of the pharmacy students was exemplary. In several instances, judges noted that the pharmacy student in each team helped enhance the performance of the whole team.

Three pharmacy students (Reem, Farah, Hoda) were among the first 3 winning teams; each of which included a nursing student, a pharmacy technician student, and a pharmacy student. This year's winner of the best pharmacy student was Sara Hayder Ahmed.

The College of Pharmacy continues to be a strong advocate for multidisciplinary training and interaction that involves students from different health care provider disciplines, and this is its second participation in the CNA-Q annual Health Sciences Skills Competition. Representing the College of Pharmacy as Judges in this year's competition were Drs. Bridget Javed and Nadir Kheir.
